Welcome

The Information and Education Centre, Gimborn Castle (IBZ) is an international meeting and further education facility, especially for police officers of all ranks and functions, well known across German borders. Our core competencies are the individual planning, organization, and execution of seminars, conferences and feasts of all kinds.

If you drive towards Gimborn, you enter another world. No modern intervention spoils the remote historic ensemble with a church, a castle, an old school and a few more facilities from the 18th and 18th century.

The board of trustee “Informations- und Bildungszentrum Schloss Gimborn” was founded in 1969. Since then the rooms of the castle have been used by the IBZ. The founding of the IBZ had been strongly supported by the IPA section of North Rhine-Westphalia and the IPA section of the Netherlands. Nowadays more than 560 members come from more than 30 countries. Since 2010 the IBZ holds a certificate as a meeting house according to DIN EN ISO 9001:2008 standards.

Encounter and Learning

Meeting people from all over the world plays a central role at the IBZ. The variety of methods, an individual atmosphere, the ambience of the rooms, and the beautiful surroundings contribute to an interesting experience. The IBZ covers a wide range of police related seminars, including main current social issues, but also topics like communication, health management and professional development.

The IBZ gives the opportunity to meet people, to discuss new ideas, exchange experiences, intelligence, and information. The encounter with others enhances skills, and new ideas, and sometimes even solutions.

We look forward to welcome you at the IBZ Schloss Gimborn.

The programme also includes subjects such as communication and work place health promotion.

The IBZ is an international institution and the seminars are not only held in German but also in other European languages. 16|11 (29.2.-4.3.)

Sexual Exploitation of the Child – Learning for the Future

Sexuality as such has always been subject to political, religious and social control. But sexuality is also a means of exercising control and power. Legislation in liberal Western societies restrains sexual behaviour in order to protect the most vulnerable: children, youngsters, the handicapped, and women. Any sexual act that violates the rights and integrity of another person is required to be prosecuted and taken to court. Nevertheless endless cases of sexual violence have come to light in recent years: In the Catholic church, in boarding schools and universities, in the media world; not to mention Jimmy Savile and also some odd things concerning policing and police investigation in Rotherham. The seminar refers to children as victims and a history of ignoring children's statements in interviews and other situations. Further areas of focus include problems which arise during police investigation, impact on victims, and therapy results in treating offenders.

Quelles sont les conséquences de ces mesures?

16|18 (18.4.-22.4.)

Criminal Mobility – Facts, Fiction and Knowledge Gaps

Europe is on the move. EU expansion and the removal of obstacles to free movement not only brought law abiding European citizens closer together but also opened gates for criminals and promoted a growing engagement in cross-border criminality. A large proportion of criminal acts is attributed to members of Gypsy and Roma groups from all parts of Europe and the non-European countries in the Balkans. Police, social service, and administration are struggling to control the situation and fight criminal acts. Regardless which reasons lead to criminal activities, it is crucial to deal with the criminal outcome. Poverty and deprivation are thought to cause a variety of criminal styles as well as structures of organised crime. DNA, car registrations, and fingerprints in the context of the Schengen and the Prüm Agreement will be discussed. The seminar addresses current issues of moving criminals, such as the activities themselves, the living conditions in the countries of departure, immigration and criminal law. Furthermore there will be an overview on advisory services and humanitarian aid in both the arrival country and the country of departure.

Safety on European Roads

“These latest figures reinforce the message that road safety requires consistent political support at the highest level, constant vigilance on enforcement and network safety management...” Antonio Avenoso, Executive Director of the ETSC, comments on the 2015 PIN report. Ageing European societies, increasing numbers of cyclists and pedestrians as well a rise in distracting obstacles in cars and the environment have an impact on road safety and might as well be hold responsible for not reaching the first common EU target: i.e. reducing the death toll on European roads at 50 % until 2020. Political support, elaborate police enforcement and support by all who are involved in safety management is needed in order to reach the target. The seminar focusses on political measures, European diversities and police strategies. Best Practice examples will be discussed under the aspect of how to promote good road safety.

Migrazione, immigrazione clandestina e criminalità

La migrazione da e verso l'Europa costituisce una sfida sociopolitica e tale è destinata a rimanere. Il seminario intende mettere in luce quanto le forze di Polizia siano chiamate a fare nel quadro delle società di accoglienza di questi flussi in Italia e Germania. Esso inoltre prende in considerazione le cause della migrazione, nonché la legislazione in materia di stranieri e di soggiorno in Italia, oltre a fornire informazioni circa i metodi e i percorsi dell'immigrazione clandestina e della tratta di migranti, nonché le possibilità di conduzione di indagini poliziesche. Saranno trattati i temi della criminalità legata al fenomeno della migrazione e presentati i modelli di assistenza e consulenza per migranti. Particolare attenzione verrà dedicata ai problemi che i comuni in Germania si trovano a dover affrontare a causa dell'immigrazione proveniente dall'Europa sudorientale.

Understanding Cyber Crime – “YouPo Seminar”

There is a conventional crime attached to almost any sort of cyber-crime. Despite this, cyber-crime investigation and the prosecution thereof tend to be left to the auspices of some sort of “Freak” or “Nerd” within the police force. The seminar will reduce ignorance and uncertainty attached to cyber-crime and will also unveil the myths behind cyber-crime. Cyber-crime laws and the evaluation of computer forensics in investigating a crime will be presented and illustrated with examples.

This seminar is especially for ‘Young Police Officers’ (< 40 years of age)

«Soy musulmán, ¡y ningún extremista!» El islam y el islamismo en Europa

En Europa viven más de 45 millones de musulmanes, ¡tendencia en alza! Los demógrafos estiman que en el 2030 los musulmanes constituirán el 8 % de la población de la UE. El islam está claramente visible en las aglomeraciones de los países europeos: mezquitas, vestimenta tradicional y tiendas y restaurantes especializadas en comida halal caracterizan barrios enteros. Esta evolución supone un reto para las sociedades europeas. Este seminario facilita conocimientos básicos sobre el islam, explica sus diferentes ramas y tematiza las tendencias extremistas y los desafíos relacionados para el trabajo policial, basándose siempre en los ejemplos de España y Alemania. Otros ejes temáticos serán los desarrollos actuales en la cuenca del Mediterráneo y en Oriente Próximo y la amenaza que supone el salafismo radical jihadista. En el programa está previsto también una visita a la mezquita.

Motorbendes - het lelijke gezicht van de georganiseerde criminaliteit

Los van de romantische kanten van het motorrijden hebben zich wereldwijd groepen motorrijders verenigd in veelal criminele bendes waarvan de activiteiten nauw met de georganiseerde criminaliteit zijn verweven. Hun optreden krijgt nog meer nadruk door de conflicten tussen met elkaar rivaliserende bendes en hun erencode die iedere samenwerking met politie en justitie verbiedt. Dit seminar informeert u over de jongste ontwikkelingen in deze scene en stelt maatregelen in het kader van een wereldwijde politie-samenwerking bij de bestrijding van deze criminele bendes ter discussie.

Locul de fapt la locul de muncă - corupția și colaborarea globală de poliție Cât de coruptă este lumea? Indexul de constatarea corupților al Transparency Interanațional din anul 2014 cuprinde 175 țări și teritorii. Țările ca Finlanda, Danemarca, Suedia și Noua Zelandă de regulă sunt „premierii clasei“. Deși structurile favorizante corupților sunt îndestulător de cunoscute, pagubele considerabile ale economiei naționale și repercusiunile dramatice asupra societății și statului de drept, în unele țări se observă puține mișcări de intervenție. Seminarul se ocupă de structurile care fac posibilă corupția, consecințele corupției și măsurile împotriva corupților. Vor fi prezentate și discutate posibilitățile de intervenire și cercetare a poliției la nivel național și internațional precum și raza lor de acțiune.

Protect the protectors – Ochronić obrońców

Sooner or later most police officers are bound to encounter abuse, threats, provocation, even physical violence. But they have to be careful how they respond. If they lose their temper, they could lose their job. The variety in European legislation when police officers become victims of crime or commit a crime themselves will be presented. Furthermore the seminar looks at Human Rights for police officers according to the United Nations, focuses on police officers under investigation, and looks at initiatives to stop violence against police officers.

Protect the protectors – Ochronić obrońców

Wcześniej czy później funkcjonariusze policji w swoim życiu zawodowym konfrontowani są z psychiczną i fizyczną przemocą, groźbami i prowokacjami. Obchodzenie się z tym wymaga samokontroli. Niekontrolowane działanie może ich kosztować nawet utratę pracy. Podczas seminarium będą przedstawione różne ustawy i normy prawne, które mają zastosowanie, jeśli funkcjonariusze stają się ofiarami przemocy, jak również wówczas, gdy sami są oskarżeni jako sprawcy i postawieni przed sądem. Ponadto na seminarium będą omówione zagadnienia związane z prawami człowieka ze szczególnym uwzględnieniem ich znaczenia dla funkcjonariuszy podejrzanych o popełnienie przestępstwa. Przedstawione i dyskutowane będą również inicjatywy podejmowane w zakresie redukcji przemocy przeciwko funkcjonariuszom policji.

The Long Road to Integration – Islam and Islamism in European Societies

Migration has turned Western societies not only into multicultural but also into multi-religious societies, however secular the majority of the indigenous societies may have become in the last decades. Due to increasing numbers and presence in the public sphere Islam has become the predominant religion. The seminar focuses on Islam as one of the great book religions with its rich tradition and variations in different Muslim countries. The transformation of Islam during migration to non-Muslim countries, its institutionalisation, and the ongoing transformation of certain aspects of the religion into Islamism as a political ideology will be presented. Challenges for the receiving societies, strategies, and solutions to the complicated situation at hand will be discussed. There will be further discussions about the policing in Muslim communities, followed by a field trip to a mosque with a police officer in charge of dialogue strategies.

Just a Game? Violence and Football

Football has become more than just a sport event. For a reasonable number of fans the sport event has turned an event of violence. Fans who just want to enjoy a match as well as police in charge of security around the stadium have to bear the consequences. The seminar focuses on the courses and developments of football related violence and racism. The policing of football hooliganism and the measures taken in term of preventing violent behaviour will be addressed and discussed in the seminar.

On Terrorism

21st century Islamic terrorism and the rise of the Islamic State are Western society's nightmare of today. At the end of 2010 the Arab Spring spread across the Middle East. In 2013 the American President Obama told the world that the war on terror had come to an end. Today scholars are speaking of an Arab Winter with ongoing conflicts in many Arab and African countries. And what started as a civil war in Syria has led to a disastrous situation in the region. Young radicalised people from

Western countries are joining Islamic fighters in Syria and elsewhere, planning and conducting terror attacks against anything symbolising Western values. The seminar will consider international terrorism, its causes and consequences. The breeding of terrorists, their activities, and measures of preventing radicalisation and the prospect of DE radicalisation will be addressed. Regarding the question of how to deal with those who are suspected of terrorism, the aligning of antiterrorism laws with criminal laws and human rights will be discussed.

By the end of the seminar, all participants will be qualified and prepared to instruct other personnel in the operational use of the ASP baton and handcuffs. This course will be physically demanding and therefore requires a certain level of fitness and flexibility. Participants are required to take part in scenarios.
